How to get there from Mannheim Central Station:

Exit the central station and turn left. Walk past the Intercity Hotel entering Schloßgartenstraße. Follow the street, walk past the ZEW and go straight on until you cross the tram line just before the Mannheim Palace. Look up, smile and wave at the top floor windows of the tower in front of you: This is your destination, the workshop venue. But to get there make a sharp right turn, follow Otto-Selz-Straße and turn left to enter the building just before you reach the front side of the Palace (see picture below). Once inside, walk back in the direction of the workshop venue and take the staircase at the very end of the ground floor corridor. Go upstairs, all the way to the top floor – you can do it! – to find room SO 418.
